

For Immediate Release

Noein and eXubrio C-Level Leads Open New Office in Kenmore to Serve Buffalo and Niagara Falls Markets

Both companies wanted space to add employees and found the Kenmore location ideal.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 14, 2005 – Information technology firm Noein Inc. and new sales appointment making service eXubrio C-Level Leads, LLC, opened offices together in Kenmore, New York. The new offices are in the Delaware Audio Visual building at 1517 Kenmore Avenue. The offices are located within easy reach of Downtown Buffalo, the Buffalo suburbs, and Niagara Falls.

“Noein is expanding as we add new website development and software programming clients,” said Robert Klingensmith, Noein Inc. president. “We needed space to put new programmers, and with our partnership in eXubrio C-Level Leads, we thought the new location would be perfect for both companies to grow.”

eXubrio C-Level Leads integrates with consulting firm eXubrio’s other marketing offerings which include Value Proposition development, Key Message creation, and business development direct marketing programs.

"Most of our clients eventually need support getting executive-level sales appointments for their senior sales staff," explains Paul McAfee, CEO of eXubrio C-Level Leads, LLC. "Our service completes the business development process for our clients, and this new office space allows us to hire marketers as we expand our client base."

eXubrio partnered with Noein Inc. to offer this highly sought-after service. Noein’s team has extensive knowledge of Internet and Information Technology. With these capabilities, and eXubrio’s years of marketing and sales experience, the two teams are ready to serve any company’s marketing and related technology needs at a very reasonable cost.

For information about Noein Inc., visit www.noein.com.

Visit www.c-levelleads.com for information about eXubrio C-Level Leads, LLC.

###

Photos of Robert Klingensmith and Paul McAfee are available on request.